

Born in Pittston, PA. Lou learned to play at his father's pool room. After watching BCA Hall of Famer Erwin Rudolph in an exhibition, 14 year old Lou decided to devote his life to pool. He was runner up to Irving Crane in the 1972 World Championship in LA. In 1973 he defeated Crane in the finals of the same event to win his first World Championship. He was nicknamed Machine Gun Lou for his rapid fire style. Lou recorded a 150 ball run against Allen Hopkins in just 21 Minutes in 1973. He has since won numerous titles.
